Their Excellencies' Opening Remarks

Unto the good people of Marinus,

The Barony of Tir-Y-don, the Barony of Storvik, and Sir Joscelin d'Outremer have already announced that they will side with us at War of the Wings. There are others that we hope to announce soon.

This is good news, of course, but even better is that the kingdom is seeing Marinus working together and enjoying it. We are very thankful for all the different things being done. I was concerned earlier this year that maybe we had too many events and too much work for us to do properly. You have proved me wrong. Several people have recently spoken with me, impressed with how Marinus is working so well together. There is much more work to do this year, but I know that not only will it get done, "Hey, it'll be fun!"

Proud to be of Marinus,

William and Sara Beth

- Flyers have been made and I'm asking you to help post them at various places (gas stations, coffee shops, MWR, anywhere). Please don't just hold onto any flyers you get. Put them up someplace.

Chronicler:

- The Chronicler is searching for two things. First, articles from peers, newcomers and anyone in between. Requests for articles seem to fall on deaf ears. It is your voice to the Barony, and the Kingdom of Atlantia itself. Yes, they request a copy of each month's newsletter. Do you really want them to receive blank pages since no one wants to shoot me an email? PLEASE submit articles.
- The position of Deputy Chronicler is open and needs to be filled. If you are interested, please come see me.
- Please feel free to contact me regarding any errors, or disagreements with what I post. I would be happy to enter letters to the editor as well. fairy.roses@gmail.com

Bring a snack or drink to share... some sweet and savory munchies will be available, as well as sun tea, lemonade, limeade, coffee (hot & iced) and teas.
- There will be no formal A&S classes in June to allow people time to work with Catalina each week on building Raven Banners. I look forward to seeing what we can create!

Articles

In the files section of the Yahoo group you will find a file that I've recently uploaded a file named "_Kingdom Event Bids.pdf". It is the first file listed after the list of folders. This file lists the Kingdom events that are awaiting bids into 2014. All of the events in 2013 have a decision date of 15 May 2012. If anyone wants to autocrat a Kingdom-level event in 2013 you only have a few days to submit a bid.

On the form I have also placed arrows next to those events that they are looking to occur preferably in our area of the Kingdom. However, this is not a "set in stone" type of thing. So if there is an event listed for Northern VA as the preferred location but no one from Northern VA bids for it, then it can happen in another area.

If there is anyone in the barony that wishes to host a Kingdom-level event in the future, please take a look at the file. I would say that I encourage experienced autocrats to try putting on a Kingdom-level event. It's something that will take many of us from the barony to accomplish successfully. But it will pay off for Marinus in many different ways.

For those of you attending Pennsic, or who want your A&S projects to attend Pennsic, here are the details on the A&S Display.

Artisans and Craftspeople are once again invited to display their effort, talents & knowledge in the 15th annual Known World Arts & Sciences Display on Monday, August 6th, at the Pennsic War.

MOOT POINTS

This is not a competition, and it is not always finished items. Some are works in progress, and some are just representations of what someone knows and does. Often, as people come and look, they see that what you do is something they might want to start investigating. For both the people who display and the people who come to see, the most valuable part is being able to talk to others who have the same interests, and sometimes more knowledge in a field. You might be able to share some knowledge or resources with others who are displaying! Photos of some items from the past couple of years are up at <http://s300.photobucket.com/albums/nn7/Sleepy Unicorn/> , filed under sub-albums of the Pennsic Year of the Display.

- * Online Registration will end on July 14th. There will be an express check-in for those who have pre-registered online.
- * Table space will be assigned to those who pre-register on-line, in the order they are received, as we cannot guarantee space for everyone.
- Barn space is divided by Kingdom, thus allowing the Royalty, Peers, and Populace to see the efforts of their Craftspeople more easily.
- Set-up begins at 8:30 am, and we end at 3 pm. Everyone must have their objects/displays out by 4 pm., when I hope you will help me take down all the tables and return the barn to its empty state.
- Only tables will be provided, although some are picnic tables. Please bring your own chair, displays (even tables).
- There is a limit of 9 sq ft a person (not per item).
- You are not required to be there, and if all you can do is a part of the day, I still thank you for sharing your knowledge. However, please have someone to watch your items when you cannot be there. With a couple of hundred people displaying, we cannot watch the items, and cannot take responsibility for them.

Thank you! Being able to organize this for you is such a joy.

MOOT POINTS

Carmina Burana, discovered in 1803 at Benediktbeurn, a Benedictine monastery located in Bavaria, is the collective work of the Goliards. Written in the 11th or 12th century, this manuscript contains poems touching controversial subjects of their time. These clerics wrote satirical poems of religion, politics, drinking and of love.

In taberna quando sumus (When we are in the tavern) is one of the poems these young, lusty, drunken clerics wrote. I have translated the first and last part keeping with the poetry rhythm and keeping the actual word for word translation secondary. I believe the construction of verse is just as important as the meaning but the middle section is just too difficult to translate into poetry form without taking away from the meaning. In Latin, these Goliards cleverly state that EVERYONE drinks and EVERYBODY drink too much for any reason so why must they be looked down on for it. Sounds to me these debauched, second born rich kids, angry to be forced to study for a life in the church, are letting it all out in this poem. Drunken, youthful rebellion, medieval style! Enjoy!!!

In taberna quando sumus
non curamus quid sit humus, sed ad ludum properamus,
cui semper insudamus.
Quid agatur in taberna
ubi nummus est pincerna,
hoc est opus ut queratur,
si quid loquar, audiatur.
Quidam ludunt, quidam bibunt,
Quidam indiscrete vivunt.
Sed in ludo qui morantur,
ex his quidam denudantur
quidam ibi vestiuntur,
Quidam saccis induuntur.
Ibi nullus timet mortem
sed pro Baccho mittunt sortem:
Primo pro nummata vini,
ex hac bibunt libertini;
semel bibunt pro captivis,
post hec bibunt ter pro vivis, quater pro Christianis cunctis quinq; pro fidelibus defunctis, sexies pro sororibus vanis,
Septies pro militibus silvanis.
Octies pro fratribus perversis, nonies pro monachis dispersis, decies pro navigantibus
undecies pro discordantiibus, duodecies pro penitentibus,
Tredcies pro iter agentibus.
Tam pro papa quam pro rege
Bibunt omnes sine lege.
Bibit hera, bibit herus,

When we have drinks in the tavern,
Death is not on the thoughts of men
Gamble and roll the dice again
With pleasures which we don't pretend
Where the coin is host to us all
Some will rise and others will fall
What happens here, you may well ask Listen and have beer from the cask
They will gamble and they will drink
Sweat and booze, of that they will stink
Those who gamble and how they fair
some are stripped of the clothes they wear,
But drunk and happy they don't care,
With women and their gorgeous hair
Here no-one has a fear of death,
With Bacchus wine is drunken best Here's to Bacchus for pleasures met
Have some drink and place your bet
one for the prisoners,
three for the living,
four for all Christians,
five for the faithful dead,
six for the loose sisters,
seven for the footpads in the woods,
Eight for the perverse brethren,
nine for the dispersed monks,
ten for the seamen,
eleven for the squabblers,
twelve for who repents,
Thirteen for the agents.
To the Pope as to the king
They all drink and they sing.
The mistress drinks, the master drinks,
